Q.bel Chocolate Wafers

If you're looking for a sweet little indulgence Bahram Shirozi has a chocolate bar for you. This father of two was inspired to create a selection of all-natural chocolate wafer bars and rolls when his son started clamoring for the fast-food goodies he saw in other children's lunch bags. Rather than give up the wholesome approach he and his wife Isabel had established for their family, he created a high quality answer to the standard candy bar. The dark and milk chocolate bars are available at Whole Foods Markets, Mrs. Greens and other local retailers. For more information visit www.qbelfoods.com.
